LAIDLAW-SAGE CASE AGAIN

THE FOURTH TRIAL BEGUN BEFORE JUS-TICE INGRAHAM.

COUNSEL ON BOTH SIDES DEMAND THE PRIV-

HEGE OF ENAMINING JURORS-THE

JURY CHOSEN. Justice Ingraham, in the Circuit of the Supreme Court yesterday morning, began the fourth trial of the suit brought by William R. Laidlaw to recover $50,000 damages from Russell Sage on ac-count of the injuries which Mr. Laidlaw received on December 4, 1891, while in the office of Mr. Sage, on December 4, 1881, while in the onice of all, sales, by the explosion of a dynamite bomb in the hands of Norcross, who went into the office for the purpose of demanding, under threats, a large sum of money from Mr. Sage The case has been before three juries previously, every one of the trials hav-ing been upset on appeal to the General Term of

It is contended by Laidlaw, who was a clerk in the office of John H. Bloodgood & Co., and who went to the office of Mr. Sage on business, that when Norcross entered the office and made threat to blow up the place unless his demand for $1,200,000 was complied with, Mr. Sage drew Laidlaw in front of him, so that Laidlaw was made a shield for Sage from the effects of the explo-

In the present trial Charles L. Jessup and A Pincoffs are the counsel for Mr. Laidiaw, and Colonel Edward C. James appears for Mr. Sage. The millionaire banker and broker was not in court when the trial began.

The counsel somewhat astonished Justice It graham by demanding that they have the right of going through an exhaustive examination of each individual jurer before he was sworn, so as to ascertain whether or not he was qualified to act in the case. The Judge said that such a proceeding was unusual in a civil case, and he was disinclined to grant it, but in view of the fact that both counsel acquiesced in the request, he allowed them to examine each jurer as to his qualifications to sit upon the trial of the case.

A number of men were examined and excused, and finally the following jury was chosen! Salney W. Hendrickson, Herman F. Giese, William F. Browne. Theodore M. Hass, Siegfried Strauss, Ernest Ebeling, John C. Robinson, Victor Schiffman, Anthony T. Mahrenholz, Thomas C. Clarken, Francis M. Hopper and James V. Rockwell.

As soon as the jury was completed the court adjourned until lo-day. of going through an exhaustive examination of

DECISION IN THE WALL PAPER CASE. JUSTICE LAWRENCE CONTINUES THE TEMPORARY INJUNCTION AGAINST ROBERT F. HORES.

A decision was given by Justice Lawrence in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday continuing the temporary injunction which was granted by Justice Beach restraining Robert F. Hobbs from engaging in or becoming associated with any busiess of manufacturing, buying, selling or dealing in wall-paper, as principal or employe. Robert S. Hobbs, the father of Robert F. Hobbs, was in the wall-paper business in Brooklyn and sold out to the trust on June 17, 1892, and an agreement was mide by which he was not to engage in the business in any manner. The trust contended that he had violated this agreement, and that the son had engaged in the business in violation of the terms of the agreement, and was making efforts to induce the employes of the trust to enter into his employ. Upon the argument of the motion for employ. Upon the argument of the motion for the continuance of the injunction it was urged that the trust was illegal and that the charter of the company should be annulled. Hobbs denied that he had any interest in his father's business, or that he was subject to any control by the National Wall Paper Company.

The effect of this decision will be to prevent Hobbs from going into the wall-paper business anywhere in the United States east of the State of Washington, neither will he be allowed to go into the employ of any wall-paper manufacturer or to own any stock in any company engaged in that business.

WORSTEDS ARE NOT WOOL. JUDGE TOWNSEND'S DECISION ON A TARIFF QUESTION AGAINST THE APPRAISERS.

Judge Townsend, in the United States Circult handed down a decision yesterday in the case of Alexander Murphy and others against the United States, in which he reversed the action of the Board of General Appraisers. On August 30, 1894, the appellants imported a lot of worsted dressgoods. The importers contended that they were dutiable at 50 per cent ad valorem under paragraph 263, Schedule K, of the Tariff act of August, 1894. They were classified for duty at 12 cents per square visions of paragraph 295, Schedule K, of the Tariff act of October 1, 1890. This assessment was sus-tained by the Board, and the importers appealed. The Court says the single question presented is whether the goods are dutiable under the earlier or the later act. It was admitted that these goods were made from the fleece of the sheep, and were in that sense a product of wool. Judge Townsend says:

The earlier tariff acts provided rates of duty on manufactures of wool different than those on the manufactures of worsted, and recognized wool and worsted as different materials. The courts have repeatedly recognized and enforced this distinction between wool and worsted, and have uniformly held that manufactures of worsted were not manufactures of wool within the meaning of the tariff acts.

THE SURROGATE MAY TRY THE CASE The application of Mrs. Julia Floyd Jones, who has a contest pending in the Surrogate's Court over the will of her mother, Mrs. Mary Esther Haines for the removal of the case to the Court of Common Pleas, for trial by jury, upon the ground that Sur-rogate Arnold was an interested party and disqualified from hearing he contest, was denied by Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, yesterday The Judge says that a Supreme Court Justice has the power to determine whether a Surrogate is disorder to that effect, but he says that this application should be denied for the reason that there are now two Surrogates, and there is no contention that both of them are disqualified from trying the Haines care. Surrogate Arnold did not intend to try the case himself, but transferred it to Surrogate Fitzgerald, his associate. Justice Andrews says, however, that the sole question presented to him

was one of jurisdiction, and he denies the motion, raying that assuming that all the allegations made are true, Surrogate Arnold is not precluded or disqualified from acting.

REPAIRS AT THE UNION LEAGUE.

TO RENOVATE THE CLUBHOUSE-A POSSIBLE EX-

It is learned that the Executive Committee of the Union League Club at a recent meeting decided to recommend for adoption by the club a resolution providing for extensive repairs of the clubhouse both inside and out, at an expense of $60,000, unless the desired work can be done for less. The renovation is intended to include a new electric plant, with the necessary excavations, boiler and heating apparatus. It is designed to provide for the cost by authorizing the Finance Committee to transfer to the treasurer such sums, not exceeding the amount specified, as the Executive Committee may from time to time require.

MISLED BY THE FLAG.

MANY PEOPLE WAITED TO SEE MAYOR STRONG AT THE CITY HALL, BUT HE WAS IN PHILADELPHIA.

Mayor Strong went to Philadelphia on Saturday or a brief outing, and did not get back to the city yesterday in time to transact business with the numerous persons who want to serve the city in various capacities. Many of these seeing the Na-tional ensign floating above the City Hall cupola haunted the corridors and antercoms refusing to believe that Colonel Strong was not somewhere about. Secretary Hedges looked after the business of the office yesterday. The Mayor will be on duty again to-day, when it will probably be decided waether William J. Fanning, Democrat, of No. 64 Clinton Place, will accept or decline the office of City Magistrate. Several friends of William Fan-ning, Republican, of No. 115 Convent-ave., the original applicant, called to see the Mayor, hoping to learn that a vacancy for him existed. Friends of several of the 26 other candidates who "failed to connect" also dropped in, anxious to hear something favorable to their men, but all were disappointed.

OWPERT THE ABUSED NIGHT AIR.

It Is Not Man's Enemy, But Warns Him of Lurking Danger.

A great deaf of solemn nonsense has been nakes a man shiver and cough, he ought to be thankful, and not find fault. Nature is polite She never strikes without warning, and the ough and chill are precautionary signals.

They mean that the body has been attacked by a creeping, insidious spring cold, the special pest of this season, when balmy days and bleak ones follow each other with swift fluctuations. What a spring cold may lead to, in the way of sore lungs and rheumatic muscles, sensible people don't wait to find out by experience.

They fortify themselves with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It sets the blood moving briskly, so here is none of the clogging called congestion, whereby certain organs are overloaded with blood, while the surface of the body is pallid and

COMMITTED SUICIDE IN HIS OFFICE. BUSINESS REVERSES DROVE DR. STAUB TO TAKE HIS LIFE.

Dr. Adolph Staub, a chemical engineer, was found dead in his office at No. 895 Broadway, at 7 clock yesterday morning, having committed sulcide by shooting in the head. The suicide was discovered by Adolph Johanson, the janitor of the building. The latter says that he thinks he heard the report of a pistol at 2 o'clock Monday after-noon, and the police suppose that the man killed himself at that hour. On a desk were some letters and papers. The letters were addressed to the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, Rudulph Staub, Switzerland; the Swiss Consul and Felham St. The latter is the owner of the milding in which Staub had his office.

Mr. Bissell called at the Mercer-st, police station and obtained the letter addressed to him. ITALIANS CHARGE BRIBERY

THEY SAY THAT STREET CLEANING JOBS CAN BE BOUGHT FOR $40 COLONEL WARING

SAYS TOLE TALES." Two Italians called at the City Hall yesterday to lay before the Mayor the name of a man who had paid $40 to accure a place in the Department of Street Cleaning. They laid their evidence before Secretary Hedges, Colonel Waring was present, but ridiculed the idea that any one in the Departmen had accepted money to put a man on the pay-rolls. The Italians said that a man named Henriques was going among them and representing that for $40 he could have a nam's name placed first on the list of applicants, and that almost im-mediately after the payment of the money they would be appointed. They said that his representamen had secured places. They said that Joseph Remuilling, of No. 108 Elizabeth-st., had been present when Vito Urso, of No. 113 Elizabeth et. paid Henriques $60. A few days later he was appointed.

Colonel Waring was seen after the Italians had and asked if he had taken the names of the men who paid, and the witness. He said: "No, I did not. It all comes about through human nature." Asked what human nature had to do with this particular case, he said: "Why, human nature likes to give and take bribes. People will always do it. You can't stop them. Some fellow called Henriques goes to them knowing human nature, and says, 'Give me $10 and you will be appointed.'

and says, 'Give me $10 and you will be appointed.'
That's all there is in it, you know."
"But how do you account for the fact that the men who pay the money are shortly afterward appointed, while those who don't have to wait?"
"Absurd. There is nothing in such idle tales. Ever since I have been in the Department I have heard them."
"Have you taken measures to prevent the Italians being swindled."
"Young man, I told you it was human nature. I haven't got to reforming that yet, Besides, what happens outside of my department does not concern me. I am certain that no one in the Department gets the money."

A price list accompanies the circulars. Original essays furnished by the firm, debates, etc., range in price from 25 cents to 30 cents per hundred words, according to style, length and nature of the subject. High school orations and essays range from 23 to 35; college essays, orations and debates, $3 to $15, and lectures from $10 up.

Some of these circulars sent to students fell into the hands of the principals of colleges, who forwarded them to the Postoffice Department, asking if such matter could not be excluded from the mails. After looking into the legal phases of the case the Department decided that it had no power under the rules and regulations to shut the circulars of the firm out of the mails.

President Cleveland may leave Washington to morrow after the Cabinet meeting to join his family morrow after the Cabinet meeting to join his family at Gray Gables, Buzzard's Bay. Every arrangement has been made for his departure when he sees fit to take it. Several important matters however, including appointments to offices in the District of Columbia, demand his attention, and he may delay leaving until he has disposed of these. Mrs. Henry T. Thurber, the wife of the President's private secretary, left Washington this morning with her family to join Mrs. Cleveland for the summer. Mrs. Thurber will occupy the Thurber cottage at Marion.

President Cleveland left Washington this morning or a day's fishing near Leesburg, Loudoun County, Va., accompanied by his old fishing companion, Joseph S. EOOF GARDENS AND OTHER SHOWS.

The new roof garden at Koster & Hal's was penel for the season last night. The changes hat have been made in the arrangements of The place was full, though not uncomfortably rowded, as it doubtless would have been if the night had been a few degrees warmer, and every-thing went well. The bill presented included the first appearance in America of the Egger-Rieser froupe of Tyrolean singers and dancers; the Amercan debut of Gantvet, a funny Frenchman; Mile, Carlotta, in songs and dances; Miss Daisy Mayer and her pickantonies; Fielding, the juggler; Kate Allen, in character dances; Conroy and Fox, Gertle Gilson, soubrette, J. W. Ransome, Ed Latell, Miss Harriett Vernen and Dr. Leo Sommer's Hungarian Gypsy Orchestra.

Lenore, the new dancer, achieved a good measur

of success in Mr. Proctor's continuous vaudeville performance yesterday. She is disclosed in classic trapery, posed in a crescent, as the Nymph of the Moon. Above is an expansive sky, with stars represented by electric lights. Barney Ferguson creclever partner in Sam Ryan. Marguerite Fergu son and her band of ptekaninnies frolic through their plantation foolery with much energy. Stelling and Revell, the comic bar performers, made a hit. Others who found favor were Mechan and Raymond, parody singers: Delavoy and Friz, panto-minute clown and policeman, with trick scenery; Arlington and De Champ, in character songs; De Venux and Taylor, Belle Clifton, skipping-rope dancer, Williams and Harton, knockabouts, Layman, the mimic; James Doyle, Grant and Norton, Frederick Kenno, and Frank G. Mack, warbler Mile. Troja made her first appearance at the American Roof Garden last night. She sang half a dozen songs and was several times recalled. American Roof Garden and high. She sang hair a dozen songs and was several times recalled. James Thornton have a new monologue and two new songs. He has established himself in the good graces of the audiences. Others in the programme, which was a very long and entertaining one, were the four Gardners, in a musical act; the Burt Sisters, in songs and dances; Charles V. Ecaman, Master James Devlin, the Sisters Hay, in character changes; Al Lubin, Lyan Weicher, Dorothy Drew and the La Rose Brothers, acrobats. The afternoon and evening concerts at the Eden Musee by Danko Gabor's Gypsy Orchestra are proving an excellent attraction, and are well attended. In each programme there is a variety of music ranging from the classical to the latest popular melodies. The selections of gypsy music always call for encores, and Danko Gabor's own compositions are well encetted. The interior of the Musee is decorated with palms and ferns, and every room is kept ency by an electrical cooling apparatus. The new groups which are in preparation will be placed on exhibition in a few days.

The Madison Square Roof Garden began its second week hast night, with a programme including Leciair and Leslie, Fritz Young and Miss Sels, Al Wilson, Ne lie Waters, Mark Murphy, the Brothers Crescendos, French musical clowns; Allie Gilbert and John Page, Balazy and Durand, French eccentrics; the Ammons Clerese trio, Miss. Paquerette, Harry Foy and Philo Durand.

TWEED'S MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

There was some excitement among a certain class of people in this city yesterday over the disappearance of George Young Tweed, a son of the late "Boss" Tweed. The missing man is about twentyight years of age and of rather dissipated habita. He had fived since the last of April in a boarding-house kept by Miss Harmon at No. 232 West Fortyfourth-st. He disappeared from there on May 3. Little attention was paid to his absence till the end Little attention was paid to his absence till the end of the week, when his brother-in-law, Frederick Douglas, whe lives at No. 159 West One-hundred and-eighteenth-st. was informed of his absence. The Morgue was visited and a general alarm sent out by the police, but no trace of him was found. Late yesterday afternoon a Tribune reporter, who called on Miss Harmon for information regarding Mr. Tweed, was told that he had just been heard from at a town in Massachusetts, to which, in a state of depression, he had hurried on leaving New-York on May 29.

GENERAL HARRISON DENIES A RUMOR. Indianapolis, June 10 (Special).-A Cincinnati newspaper published an article on Sunday, alleging that it had just become known that General Harrison had been approached by counsel for the Liquor League and asked to accept a retainer to contest the constitutionality of the Nicholson Temperance law. The report was that $10,000 had been offered to him as a retainer, but he had declined to necept it, saying that he believed the law to be a much-needed advance in the direction of good morals, and whatever might be his views as to its constitutionality, he could not conscientiously lend his aid to having it deciared unconstitutional and inoperative. General Harrison, when seen to-night, said that the report was absolutely without founda-tion.

CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED STUDENTS. Princeton, N. J., June 10 (Special).-The condition of Cochran and Ohl, the students who were shot the negro Collins Saturday night, is unchanged. Cochran has the better chance of recovery, while Ohl's condition still remains critical. A slight rise in his temperature was noticed toward evening. The physicians have not been able to locate the bullet in the back of Cochran's neck. State Senator Cochran is with his son. Mr. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, telegraphed Senator Cochran, putting a special train at his disposal when the boys were able to be moved.

PRESIDENT MORTON, OF STEVENS INSTITUTE, AND THE FACULTY DECIDE NOT TO EX-PEL THE YOUNG MEN FOR HAZ-ING - A REPRIMAND WHICH

THEY SHOULD HEED. The expulsion of four members from the freshnan class of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., for hazing the incoming men of next year's class, was reconsidered by the faculty yesterday afternoon and resulted in the reinstatement of the four fresh-President Morton made the following address to the whole class as a reprimand to the four members and the class as a repriminal to the loar members and the class in general:

The faculty, after careful examination of the case, have reached the concussion that the disorders committed by your classmaries on the Ith were largely the result of thoughtle-shess and a failure to realize the true character of your acis, and in view of this have decided to dismiss the cases of those brought before them with no further penalty than a reprimand in the presence of the class, this last condition being method because it was felt that there are many other members of the class who stand in need of admonition on this subject quite as much as those who have been brought before the faculty.

Among all the sad survivals or in eritances which the human race still carries from its more or less savage ancestors, none is more opposed to those higher qualities which distinguish the genileman and the Christian from the savage and the brute than the pleasure taken in witnessing the sufferings of the helpiess. In a losser development we see this illustrated in the prolonged and cruel death inflicted by the cat upon the mouse, and in higher form at the torture stake of the Indian, where a wounded and helpless enemy, and not infrequently a woman or a child, is watched with decilight under such torture as nendish ingenuity can invent.

frequently a woman or a child, is watered with a light under such torture as nendish ingenuity can invent.

Such atrocities to the ordinary man of to-day are simply sickening, but we must not forget that but a few centuries ago our Europeau ancestors flocked in crowds to witness similar barbarities perpetrated in the name of the law, or that it needed such a book as 'Tom Brown at Rugby' to break up the cruel practices of a like nature at the great public schools of England, or that we ourselves within the last few years have been shocked and stekened with atrocities committed in what has been called 'hazing.'

I do not for a moment suppose that any of you, realizing the situation, would for a moment think of taking part in any such things. But do you not see that the enterprise you were engaged in last Friday was inspired by the same spirit and was a first step on the downward road ending, or in another sense beginning, in this pit of bestial or savage cruelty and cowardice? I use this last world with full intent, for what can be more cowardily than the combination of the many, that in security and ease they may torture or distress those whom circumstances or accident have placed at their mercy?

I sincerely hope and believe that if any of you had stopped to think of what was the real inspiration of your action on Friday you would have glowed with the blush of ingenuous shame that such a purpose should ever have been entertained by you.

MAJOR ANDREWS'S TOUR OF INSPECTION.

OPEN AND BOUGHT BEER

HE MAKES A SUNDAY INVESTIGATION OF THE MANNER IN WHICH THE POLICE ENFORCE EXCISE LAWS FOUND SIDE DOORS

Police Commissioner Andrews, following the good example set by President Roosevelt last week, spent several hours on Sunday meraing making personal observations to ascertain how the policemen on post performed their duties and how the law was being enforced. He lives in the Thirtieth Precinct, and he travelled through the precinct and visited the police station in West One-hundredand-twenty-fifth-st. He also inspected other precincts, and visited the police stations in East Onebundred-and-twenty-sixth-at., East One-hundred-and-fourth-st., East Eighty-eighth-st. and East Sixty-seventh-st. He found a number of liquor-stores open in defiance of law, and saw policemen dling near the side doors and paying no attention to the thirsty men who went in and out. He or-idling near the side doors and paying no attention to the thirsty men who went in and out. He ordered a glass of beer in one place himself, paid for the beer and drank it, not because he particularly desired to drink, but because he wanted to be sure that it was beer.

In his office at Police Headquarters yesterday Mc. Andrews said: "I started out yesterday to inform myself on the excise question. I wanted to see how far the law was observed, and just how far the police went in trying to enforce the law. I picked up some valuable points. I found that saloon-keepers frequently violated the law. In my journey through the precinct I observed numerous places open and doing business. There was no trouble to get in. Streams of people were passing in and out. I went into three or four places myself. I had no trouble to gain admission. There were men drinking at all the places. In one place were men drinking at all the places. In one place I was served with a glass of beer. I drank it to see whether it was really beer. It was. After a while it became known who I was, and thereafter I found trouble in entering any more places. I conclude that the police are not doing all they should do toward enforcing the law. Of course, a man in uniform could not get into a saloon, but he could do something on the outside to prevent the law from being so freely violated. These will be better attention given this matter in the future."

President Rocsevelt yesterday called twenty of the precinct commanders before him at Headquarters and made a brief speech to them, in which he sald he wanted all the captains to see that their sergeants, roundsmen and patrolinen did their attention to the necessity of investigating the character of applicants for policemen. Each captain, he said, would be held sirietly accountable for the report he made relative to the character of the applicant referred to him.

GEOGRAN IDENTIFIED BY DITTMEYER. Patrick Geoghan, Detectives McCafferty and Webb's prisoner, was identified in the prisoner's sen of the Tombs Police Court yesterday by Louis Dittmeyer as one of the three men who committed three burglaries in the neighborhood of M. C. D. Borden's house, about the time Harris was mur-dered.

OFFICIAL CROP FIGURES.

THE GOVERNMENT'S MONTHLY REPORT.

DECIDED FALLING OFF IN CONDITION OF WHEAT AND COTTON-A REDUCED ACREAGE IN

THE SOUTHERN STAPLE. Washington, June 10 .- The returns of the correspondents of the Agricultural Department make the acreage of winter wheat at present growing, after allowing for abandonments, 96.1 per cent of the area harvested in 1824. The percentage of winter wheat acreage, upon the basis indicated, of the principal States, are as follows: Ohio, 95; Michigan, 90; Indiana, 13; Illinois, 25; Kansas, 17, and California, 115. The percentage of spring wheat area for the entire country is 19.5 per cent, being but a slight reduction from last year's area. The area for the entire country is 19.5 per cent, being but a slight reduction from last year's area. The percenta; es of spring wheat acreage of the principal States are: Wiscons'n, 107; Minnesota, 109; Nebraska, 101; North and South Dakota, 100 each. The condition of winter wheat has fallen decidedly since last report, being 71:1 per cent, against 8.9 on May 1. The condition reported June 1. 1894, was 832 per cent.

The condition of spring wheat shows an average for the whole country of 9.8 per cent. The average percentage of all wheat screage is 97.1 and the condition of spring wheat shows an average condition of some is 78.5 per cent.

The result of the special investigation made by the Department in 730 cotton-growing countles shows that in eighty-eight there will be little or no change in acreage as compared with last year, five report an increase of 10 per cent, and three an increase of from 21 to 30 per cent, and three an increase of from 21 to 30 per cent, and three an increase of from 31 to 40 per cent, and three an increase of from 31 to 40 per cent, and three an increase of from 31 to 40 per cent. The cents of from 31 to 40 per cent. The cents of from 31 to 40 per cent. The consolidated returns of reports to the statistical division for the month of June show the average for the United States, 55.2 a reduction of 1.8 per cent upon the revised acreage given out in May. The general average of condition for the country is 81, against 83.3 last year and 85.6 in 1893.

RALLIED ON THE BUREAU'S REPORT. COTTON MOVES UP ON THE STATEMENT THAT THE CROP CONDITIONS ARE THE WORST ON RECORD.

The features of the cotton market yesterday were the reopening of Liverpool after the holidays and the publication of the long-looked-for and much-discussed Eureau acreage report. Liverpool was disappointing, futures there improving only 2-64, or about haif of what was expected, while spinor about haif of what was expected, while spin-ners bought only $,000 bales. Final quotations abroad, however, were 3-64 better. This caused a decline of 4 or 5 points in the New-York mar-ket, but the loss was quickly recovered when the Bureau's figures were announced. This gave the acreage reduction at 14.8 per cent, while the con-dition showed a decline of 7.5 per cent from last dition showed a decline of 7.3 per cent from last year. Though the estimated reduction in acreage was a shade less than had been expected, the con-dition was, as predicted, the worst in teh years. often as desired that the next crop would not be 7,500,000 bales, but they found no takers. The mar-ket railled 7 points from the bottom and closed at a net gain of 1 to 3 points for the day. August ranged between 7.16 and 7.23, closing at 7.22. The Bureau's figures are taken to mean an acreage of 20,181,750 acres against 23,687,500 last year.

Liverpool is expected to improve to-morrow on the Bureau's report. Atwood Violett & Co. write as follows:

This is the lowest condition for June for many years and confirms our impression that the crop years and confirms our impression that the crop entered June in the worst condition on record. The lowest condition of crop on June 1 since 1831 was 85.6, against 81 to-day, still further evidencing how serious were conditions eleven days ago, and more unpromising in a large section of the Cotton Belt to-day than they were then.

One of the best-posted men at New-Orleans on cotton statistical questions wires us to-day as follows: "Taking the decreased acreage of the Bureau's revised figures, and allowing loss of over 7 per cent in condition, as made up to-day, it indicates crop 7,482,699.

It is well to bear in mind that the replies upon which to-day's report was based were up to the latter part of May, whereas one-third of this month has elapsed. The conditions have deteriorated in Texas, Mississippi and Louisians since June 1, and as rain is still continuing (the rainfall being very heavy there yesterday and Saturday), it promises a further loss in the July report.
